28th Annual Christmastime in Loganville

9 AM – 4 PM, Saturday, November 17, 2012

Christmastime in Loganville, Saturday, November 17, 2012, is a free holiday event that takes place from 9 AM – 4 PM in a festive community atmosphere.

Local organizations, churches and businesses located in and near Loganville, Jacobus and Seven Valleys offer crafts, holiday gift items, decorations, wreaths, trees, delicious homemade food, baked goods, a train display, a book sale and much more.

A Christmas tree flag displayed at each of the 17 locations indicates where visitors can stop and pick up a flyer and map to guide them as they continue to shop throughout the day.

A craft show at the Loganville-Springfield Elementary School houses more than 40 crafters. The Jacobus Lioness Club is collecting canned goods and non-perishable foods at the school. Food items collected will be distributed, by the Lions Club, to families in need during the Christmas season.

The vendors and crafters at each of the locations offer fantastic holiday shopping for the whole family to enjoy.
